SHELTON STATE NEWS BRIEFS

Five new faculty and staff positions at Shelton State Community College have recently been filled, according to Shelton President Rick Rogers. A work keys assessment specialist and a work keys/personnel support specialist have been named as well as commercial art, machine tool technology and office administration instructors. The college has also selected the new director of Educational Talent Search.

Jan Dean is the new work keys assessment specialist for Shelton State. Dean received her B.S. degree from Auburn University. Before coming to Shelton State, she was a physical education aid at Englewood Elementary School in Tuscaloosa.

Debbie Einarsson of Tuscaloosa was named work keys/personnel support specialist. A graduate of the University of Alabama with a degree in interior design, Einarsson has been with the college since March 2000. Before the new position she was a grant writer and worked with the Work Keys program.

Larry McAfee is the new commercial art instructor. McAfee holds a bachelor of fine arts degree from Auburn University and has worked with a number of advertising agencies including Creative Displays of Gadsden, Alabama, Outdoor West, Galveston, Texas, Patrick Media, Houston, Texas, Outdoor West, Griffin, Georgia and AdvertiseATLANTA, Atlanta Georgia.

Jason Moore is the new machine tool technology instructor. Moore is a native of Tuscaloosa and received his B.S. degree from Athens State College in 1997. In addition to teaching part-time at Shelton, Moore was an instructor for the Alabama Industrial Development Training (Mercedes-Benz Institute) from August 1997 until December 2000.

Pam Stewart is the new office administration instructor. Stewart has 25 years of teaching experience and was the business education instructor at Hillcrest High School before joining Shelton State. She holds a B.S. and M.A. degrees from the University of Alabama. She is a member of Delta Pi Epsilon, National Business Education Association, Alabama Business Education Association, Delta Kappa Gamma, National Education Association, Alabama Education Association, and Tuscaloosa County Education Association.

Wanda Kemp of Northport is the director of Shelton's Educational Talent Search program.

Kemp graduated from Livingston University in 1983 and has served as a counselor for Educational Talent Search since 1991. She is a native of Eutaw, Alabama.

BIG RIVER ROLLS IN

Big River sweeps into Tuscaloosa this month as Theatre Tuscaloosa presents a version of the timeless class July 27 – August 5. The music and lyrics are by country songwriter Roger Miller and the book is adapted by William Hauptman. Miller, who died in 1992, was the author of such songs as “Do Wacka Do” and “King of the Road.”

Starring as Huck is Brad Williams, and Stephen T. Williams is Jim. Other cast members are Kyle Everett (Tom Sawyer), Cheryl Connelly (Widow Douglas), Charles Prosser (The King), Greg Hagler (The Duke) and Glen Johnson (Pap Finn).

Ticket prices are $15 adults, $12 seniors and $9 students and may be purchased by calling the Theatre Tuscaloosa box office, 391-2277.

DANCE DEPARTMENT HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

Shelton's dance department, pre-college division, will hold an open house Saturday, August 25, from 2–4 p.m. in the dance studio. Classes are offered for students four years of age through high school. Classes begin September 4. For more information, call 391-2317.

‘ROUND CAMPUS

*Dixie Terry and Madonna Thompson will hold Shelton's first All Girls/All Sports camp this month at the college. The camp will be held July 16 – 19 from 9 a.m. – 3 p.m. for girls 5 – 12 years of age. For more information, call 343-2306 or ext. 2306.

*Shelton President Rick Rogers was featured in the summer issue of the Tuscaloosa County Industrial Development Authority newsletter. In the newsletter Rogers concludes by saying, “In the final analysis it is important that everyone in the area (parents, students, and business partners) have confidence that we at Shelton State Community College are dedicated to making our school the best it can be for them. We all have our roles to play. It's important to us that ALL our community partners have confidence in the quality of our efforts. By working together, we can look forward to a future that is bright and prosperous.”

*The new Shelton State Alumni Council will hold its annual retreat at Lucy Kubiszyn's home on Thursday, July 19. Plans for the year's activities will be made. If you have anything you would like to present to the alumni association, call the alumni office, ext. 2252.

*Shelton nursing instructor Jackie Williams was selected one of 100 nurses from across the country to attend a training program this summer on end-of-life care. The three-day course was sponsored by the American Association of Colleges of Nursing and the City of Hope Cancer Center. The purpose of the program was to provide faculty with information on end-of-life care and resources.

*Getting healthy? Try a healthy cooking class this fall on Tuesdays and Thursdays from noon until 1 p.m. in the Wellness Center. For more information, call ext. 2994.
